EXPERIENCE

Ian is a chartered loss adjuster who originally trained and worked in Northern Ireland before moving to South East Asia in 1986. Based in Indonesia, Philippines and Singapore as well as holding regional roles for over 32 years, Ian moved back to the UK in early 2019 to join Echelon. During his time in Asia Ian handled major and complex claims for Insurers whilst working for loss adjusters Thomas Howell, Crawford's, Braemar and Integra. He also worked as claims consultant for a broker before setting up Echelon's Singapore office in 2001.

Ian has a wide experience of handling a variety of major and complex losses including immediate responses to major catastrophic events. He is well versed in the investigation, preparation, negotiation and settlement of significant claims at the highest level. He specialises in all types of property damage/business interruption and liability losses across a wide range of industry sectors including Construction, Power, Energy, retail and manufacturing.
